

We are happy to announce the second recipient of the Allyn P. Udell Hello Dolly Foundation Creative Medical Scholarship at Tulane School of Medicine has been presented to Faradia Kernizan

Faradia Kernizan is a second-year medical student at Tulane University School of Medicine. Faradia was born and raised in Queens, New York. She received a BA degree from Johns Hopkins University in 2012 and an MPH degree from Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health in 2018. Prior to attending medical school, she had been involved in public health projects that focus on health disparities in various fields of medicine. She is currently interested in oncodermatology, medical dermatology, as well as ophthalmology. As a future physician, she hopes to be able to bridge the gap between underserved populations and access to quality healthcare and treatment. In her free time, she likes to read, run, cook new recipes, and go on backpacking trips.
